Legislative Doings.

A joint bill re-arranging and reduc-ing the Missouri congressional districts from sixteen to fifteen was in-troduced in the state senate. Tuesday of last week. It was drawn on the theory that the congressional re-ap-portionment act would reduce the dis-tricts to fifteen.

In the first districts Platte, Chaton, Clay and Ray counties form a part of the district, with Kansas City wards. The second is composed entirely of Jackson county and Kansas City wards. Every county in the thirteenth district is Democratic. It is composed of parts of the first, second, seventh and ninth districts.

The present fourth district, composed of Atchison, Andrew, Buchanan, Holt, Nodaway and Platte, is made the ficient district, and is to be com-posed of the following counties: At-chison, Andrew, Buchanan, DeKalb, Gentry, Harrison, Holt, Nodaway, Mercer and Worth.

Mercer and Worth.

The authors of the bill say the average population of the districts is 226, 800. The 1920 census gives these ten counties comprising the new 15th district a total population of 228,565, as follows: Andrew, 14,075; Atchison, 13,008; Buchanan, 93,684; DeKalb, 11,694; Gentry, 15,634; Harrison, 19,719; Holt, 14,084; Mercer, 11,281; Nodaway, 27,744; Worth, 7,642.

Politically the new district 15 was Democratic by 1228 in the presidential election of 1916, Wilson vs. Hughes campaign. There are four Republican counties in the district. Andrew, Harrison, Holt and Mercer.

If we take the 1920 vote, Cox vs. Harding campaign, and the woman en-

Harding campaign, and the woman en-franchisement into account, and make it a basis the new 15th district is Republican by 12,927, but when the con-gressional vote is counted and the new gressional vote is counted and the new district is constituted as the bill provides, we are of the opinion it will prove a very close district politically. The total vote for Cox was 39,187; for Harding, 52,116—every county in the district gave a Republican majority in 1929. It is said the woman vote was the cause. the cause.

The special session will likely adjourn some time between July 25th and the first of August.

The senate is much ahead of the house with its work. It passed two senate measures one day last week. One is a bill by Senator Pickett, providing the machinery for holding the special election August 2. It applies the general election laws to the special election, save that outside of the cities having registration only two judges election, save that outside of the cities having registration only two judges and two clerks of election will be provided by the county courts.

The other bill, a measure by Senator Proctor, of Kansas City, affects the inheritance tax law. It increases the amount widows may claim from $15,000 to $20,000 and fixes the tax on bequests above $80,000 at not exceeding ten per cent. The tax on large bequests now runs as high as 25 per cent.

John M. Malang, of Joplin, former secretary of the state highway board and author of the "Malang plan" for primary and secondary roads, made an extended argument in favor of the passage of the bill introduced by Representative Whitehead, of Buchanan county. He said that any system of roads laid out that did not consider the state as a whole would be doing an injustice to the generation that will have to pay the bonds. The primary roads, he declared, would be the great arteries of traffic and travel, and the secondary roads would be feeders for them.

He urged the law-makers to visuals at the state as a whole would be feeders for them.

He urged the law-makers to visuals for Danville, Ill., where she will spend three or four weeks, visiting relatives and secondary roads would be feeders for them.

He urged the law-makers to visualize theh state as a whole and not to countenance any plan that did not do equal justice to all the people of the state. He said further that the great centers of the state, Kansas City, St. Joseph and St. Louis, which furnish the greater part of the automobile license fund, are entitled to a run for their money in road building.

He deprecated the "dirt" throwing that has been going on by the various organizations behind this or that plan.

"Now that we have the money to build roads with we are quarreling over how it shall be spent. The time has come to give Missouri a system of roads," he continued.

A bill providing for the erection of a state cement plant after the South Dakota plan was introduced in the house. The bill was prepared by Haines, of Saline county, and Smith, of Andrew county. It is backed by the special cement investigating committee appointed at the regular session.

An annropriation of 2 millien dollars is provided to build the plant. A 2200,000 revolving fund also is provided. A bi-partisan board of four members would be authorized to build the summons of the electric part of particular three she will spend three or four weeks, visiting relatives and friends.

The Savannah Democrat comes bequests now runs as high as 25 per cent.
